

Donec Egestas Scelerisque dolor:

MAYCOMB LIBERAL CITIZENS GAZETTE

June 1932

Issue No. Seventeen

apple.com/iwork

LOREM IPSUM:
TEMPOR NOSTRA MAECENAS
1234 Main St.
Maycomb, Alabama
TELEPHONE
(123) 456-7890
FAX
(123) 456-7891

Beware Citizens of Maycomb!!!

TOM ROBINSON
TRAIL

WE DEMAND JUSTICE

TOM ROBINSON

Tom Robinson was convicted of a crime that involved Mayella getting raped and beaten.

Continued on Page 2

BOB EWELLS DEATH

Bob Ewell died last night after plotting revenge on Atticus.

Continued on Page 3

BOO RADLEY

Author "Boo" Radley came outside the house and came to the rescue of Jem and Jean.

Continued on Page 5

The trial of Tom Robinson

The decision of fate

The reacher looking for a settler

What does this trial reveal about the identity of Maycomb or even the future of Maycomb.

Recently in Maycomb there has been an exceedingly serious trial that has convicted a black man of a rape and violence crime. Now from the alleged victim's and the prosecution's witness' testimony it may appeared to be some false information about what exactly happened that day of the crime. Clearly many of us can tell that Tom Robinson had to be an innocent because the Ewell's testimonies contradicted each others. I believe the jury even knew that Tom was innocent but decided to sentence him guilty because they knew they would become an outcast to the people of Maycomb. However if the jury would have set an innocent man free they would have saved a precious life. First and foremost I would like to thank my neighbor Atticus for stepping on the right foot and doing what he thought was right for a Maycomb as a united community. Despite all the negative comments people said about him for taking this case was that Atticus set himself apart for regular Maycomb "folks" by accepting this case. It was apparent that the jury members where in fact persuaded by Atticus argument but it wasn't enough to set Tom free. Maycomb really needs to become beware of the future of this town if everyone just continues to be just regular Maycomb "folks". We will never know the true value of our community if we are just so racist and we continue to blame other people with crimes that we did ourselves just to get rid of one ethnic group.

Truthfully Maycomb is going down the drain, we have the blood of an innocent man on our hands. The possession of his life were at our finger tips and in an instance we could just whisk it away within a second. Many of us "folks" would say "that's what that nigga had coming trying to go after that white girl. I'd shot him another 17 times just for walking past that house." That's the kind of racism I'm talking about, even if Tom and Mayella did have a chance to have a relationship not saying that they would because Tom was a married man with children. However if a relationship did occur between the two why would it matter? Does what matter is that two people who love each other so much that they are willing to be together despite the differences? Do you know that someone in Maycomb goes through the same thing what makes him pretend something that he is not just so people won't criticize him. Mr. Raymond is a white man who is married to a black woman and has mixed children. By him taking on the decision to be with a black woman is children have to suffer because one one will accept them for who they are but only for their nationality. Mr. Raymond acts as a drunk because he just wants people to understand that they way he lives is his business not ours.

Many people wouldn't think me a white woman or even a white man living among some of the most racist people there is to be known, would raise up and speak out against such a hate crime. Atticus is a very intelligent man who believes in equal rights for all, he took this case knowing he would become an outcast and hated by white people but while doing this he revealed the true Maycomb. Atticus revealed that Maycomb are full of lairs, racism, prejudgers, abusers, and revenge seekers. It was evident that the whole trial was based off a lie, Bob Ewell lied about Tom beating up Mayella when it was truly him. Mayella lied about being raped knowing that she forced herself on Tom and was rejected. Atticus proved that a disabled man like Tom couldn't have done such things with basically one arm. By the town being so racist, everyone prejudice Tom just because he was black, automatically assuming "black did the crime, he is going to do overtime."

After the trail Mr. Ewell aspects to get something for sending in a dangerous rapist and abuser instead he was sent back to his dump to continue living a miserable life. This to is so sad even for a person like Bob because he too was an outcast among his own people. The way he lives was unacceptable to the Maycomb ordinary "folks" who think that they are so high and might that they can't accept a man who too lives a life that he choose to live. I Miss Maudie has also judged Bob Ewell, his lifestyle, and criticized the fact that he lied on a black man to save is behind from begin convicted of beating his daughter. And he molested his daughter several times prior to the trial. However I believe the whole reason Bob Ewell started this case was to fit in with the rest of Maycomb instead of being an embarrassment among them. He probably didn't want to live his lifestyle, he probably didn't want to live in an area where blacks live. He probably didn't even what to be an alcoholic but by us pushing not only him but the whole Ewell family away made Bob who he was. And the fact that his wife died and we stilled pushed him away, didn't make the situation any better. To make matters worse Bob plotted revenged on people who harmed him, since Tom was died he went after Helen. He would follow Helen to and from work from to scare her. Then Bob tried to get revenge on Atticus by trying to kill Jem and Jean; Bob followed them home through the dark schoolyard to kill them. Fortunately only Jem's arm was broken and Jean's custom was crushed. However Bob was stabbed to death by Jem out of self defense. There another life has been remove off the presence of the earth due to the cruel rejection and a form of racist not liking another person for way they are. Despite Bob's death he still tried to blame what he did on Tom Robinson, maybe the reason for all this is to get rid of the black population Maycomb. That's maybe why he plotted revenge on a black and a black supporter known as a "nigger lover". Also that explains why we don't know the true value of Maycomb because no one takes responsibility for what they have done. Maycomb you have been warned, its your decision if you want to see more people die or if you to see life flourish living as united people.

By: Tiarra Bell

Children of a great understanding.

Man of courage.

Man from hiding to man to the rescue.