

1. How to Write A Children's Book: Steps, Structure + Tips.

self-publishingschool.com/how-to-write-a-childrens-book/.

When I reviewed this source I thought it was a very good source, it shows the steps that I have to take to create a children's book. It made me think about the illustration of the book and that I will need someone to edit my book making me think that those people would either be my mentor or other teachers to have a good well understanding book www.vidyard.com/blog/how-to-make-a-documentary/.

2. How to Make a Documentary: Step-by-Step Guide.

When I reviewed this source I did see it was useful, for when I help sarahi do the interviews I won't necessarily be the one filming but I wanted to have some information so in that way I could have some background knowledge and help sarahi when we go interview the people. The first thing it says is to start planning and after we talk to the owners we would like to settle a day for us to check where we would set up the cameras and how many etc blog.reedsy.com/how-to-write-a-book/.

This website talks about how I will be writing the book. It was helpful because it gave me the idea to look at other books and I will definitely get ideas from looking and reading other books. I can not say much about this source. I feel like it is helpful but It does not contain a lot of information.

4. How to Illustrate a Children's Book in 5 Steps.

www.masterclass.com/articles/how-to-illustrate-a-childrens-book.

In this website I will learn how to illustrate or it gives me ideas of how to think in which scenarios I will write those types of illustrations it will guide me to think more than just a store. I like how this website gives me 5 steps to complete or think how I will illustrate the drawings in my book.

5. 5 Elements That Make an Impactful Documentary.

www.buzzmasters.ca/elements-impactful-documentary/.

A big part of making this book in an engaging way is that are documentary has to be a strong based documentary. Many things rely on it. This website guides us to learn what makes a documentary unique and impactful for the people that will be watching it. The children's book will be so kids grow up with the knowledge. And the documentary will be used more adults to learn and also be aware of the things immigrants have to go through brookevitale.com/blog/childrens-book-layout.

I can say that this source is one of the most important ones. To make a children's book I have to make sure that the pages are not too long or too short. This website gives me a good overview of how I can start planning the layout of the book. It has several different sections in which the picture layouts the page numbers etc. I think I will be using this website a lot for my project. It has very good information.

This source is helpful but not necessary for me, the website that I saw before has a better overview of how I would write the children's book. This website gives a broader look of ideas of how to write children's books and I feel like it is better than the other websites that goes in with a lot of details in every point they make.

8. "How To Record Documentary Audio." Deity Microphones,

www.youtube.com/watch?v=WAjMhpGx9QM.

For this video It was very helpful. We would definitely try to make these steps. It made me think when it said that we need to make the person secure and not intimidate them. The most important thing is communication, they said. We will need a microphone and we need to check if we can get that at school. There are various ways of positioning the camera we need to look at it

9. "How To Illustrate A Children's Book." SelfPublishedWhiz, www.youtube.com/watch?v=m5bgMTRGAQQ.

I had read about how I will be illustrating a children's book but I wanted to learn more about it. This video showed me an app where I could draw a cartoon looking like I loved this because it makes it look more realistic as a book. She also says the for a children's book it never has to be the best. It shows us how to insert the picture and how to create new layers. This was a helpful video. This shows us how to use this app

10. 45 Fundraising Ideas that Work for Any Organization or Cause.
blog.bonfire.com/fundraising-ideas/.

This website gave us more ideas of what I will be doing to try to fundraise money for this project. It is very self explanatory. It gave us idea for a raffle online ONE that really interested me was the restaurant fundraiser
