- "I found this source useful because. . ."
- "One limitation of this source was. . ."

First: My father shall be my main source of everything in general. He shall be my guidebook along the way and I will definitely make sure to use him by asking for help and if I am doing things right. He shall be my cameraman and in general, he would be helping me with everything that goes on.

Second source: "Every Single Tool You Need to Start Working on Cars! Full List." YouTube, YouTube, 22 Oct. 2019, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XOJdh85qfWE>.

This source provides information about all the tools that people who are going to view my video should know about. I don't think I'll make them watch this video but I will definitely make a list of the most important so that they themselves can go get the tools. Since I've been taught by my dad I've only known most of these tools in Spanish since that's how we mainly communicate so this is really helpful.

Third: 2carpros. "How to Change Oil and Filter Ford F-150 5.4L 2004-2008." YouTube, YouTube, 3 Oct. 2017, <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lanGHAdATkA&t=548s>.

I found this source useful because it will allow me to refresh my knowledge on how to change the used oil and oil filter. It had been a while so its very useful to refresh your mind on the topic you are going to teach people that probably know nothing about cars. I do things in a certain way that may only be useful for me so watching this could allow me to rethink my ways and allow for a more presentable manner of teaching.
