Intro... ♡

Hello my fellow readers! This magazine article is going to briefly tell you about me and my life. Its articles are full of juicy details about... ME!

Fashion and Design, sports and Exercise, and Music are three main topics. Maybe you and I will have a lot in common, let's see!

I remember just a few days ago my best friend came to a party with me, and said "where exactly do you think you going looking like that?". I didn't know how to take it. At the moment it never crossed my mind, but when she looked at me again, her words began to come back up.

But at the end of the day I'm proud with the way God made me. (See pg. 3) So don't be afraid to be who you truly are, because in the end its whats in the inside. Always remember you come first not others opinions.

Enjoy!

MUSIC !!

When I wake up in the morning the first thing I grab is my I Pod to hear the beats. Lil Wayne is my personal favorite, he brings me joy. Music is most important to me because it was basically brought upon my life by my mother. When I was around eight or nine I was playing the guitar and performing. This is what really started my love for music. Now that I am a teenager and have been introduced to multiple types of instruments and artists its difficult to just choose one. The main thing that amazes me about music is the way it is composed. How it goes from the studio, to the radio, to the CDs. It seems impossible. Another thing is how they are able to get their voices to sound like that. It just flows, like the waves of the ocean. Music has a way of shaping me and getting me in the zone. When I have the earphones in, it seems like nothing else matters. I write my own songs and sing, but nobody knows that about me. One day, hopefully, I will have the guts to sing in front of a crowd, but for right now I will stick to the mirror. If I could choose a song that best fits my life it will be Bye Bye: Mariah Carrey. The reason I chose this song is because no matter how much I want a person to stay in my life its like one minute they are there but two seconds later they are gone. I am so used to it, it seems like it supposed to happen.

Bald & Beautiful

Continued... Well...
Me and my best friend Dan,
aka Diamond plan on starting
our own clothing line called "Spectular Threads"! We've been real cool since the fifth grade, and started designing our own clothes when we created a group!

See, me I can draw but only so much like I'm no good at faces. But put some cloth and supplies
in front of me, it's like magic occurred.

For all those want to be designers stop at nothing to get your dream...!

I'll see you soon,
don't forget to check out our next issue!

Fashion and Design

Where do I begin ... I swear I can sit and draw my own sketches all day. Just the thought of being able to create something to call my own is a great accomplishment. Whether its drawing or sewing it is one of those few things I have a strong passion for. Me personally I cannot stay focused on just one thing, like the way I dress and the way I talk. The way I am can be told in many more ways than one, my style is unique from what people have told me. Mix match is the way to go, it just better to be different then the plain original. The main person that influenced me in most to follow my dream is my mother. She has always been there and supported me through everything. Two people that I would love to meet are Gucci and Kiomara Lee Simmons. Gucci is just amazing. She is a fantastic designer. Kiomara Lee Simmons is one of the most well known designers and the prettiest. Fashion will forever be a part of me.

Just a few more words about sports and exercise. My brother was born to play basketball, at least that's what it seems like to me. When he asks me to help me help him practice I feel like I'm playing with my coach. (I just run up and down the court.) Although next to him I suck I'm just glad to be able to call him my brother.

S&A, well mainly Stealing, Aaron and a few others are a pleasure to play with although they sometimes... Cheat!

All the guys and girls that would like to play or just be active should pick a person to have fun and exercise with. That's how it all starts....

Touchdown

Sport and Exercise

The sound of the ball hitting against the ground or the swish of the net is music to my ears. Sports are a major part in my life. I have been playing for a few years now, Basketball mainly and in the summer Baseball. Exercise well, being active, influences me in various ways. The main way is it boosted up my self-confidence and the shyness I used to be all quiet and kept to myself but then when I joined the school team in the sixth grade a drastic change occurred. It felt like the inner me was being released finally. Playing sports or just walking around keeps my body the way I like it. If I have the opportunity to meet any famous sportsmen, I would choose LeBron James and DeShawn Jackson. The reason I chose LeBron is because the way he makes basketball seem is just amazing to me. Like the way he looks at the crowd. I just hope that could be me one day. DeShawn Jackson is my idol. Sports is what makes me, me.
